“We Listen, We Plan, We Care, ... and then we help make your day the best that it can be!”
1 Health
There are many ways that non-medical care giving can help maintain and even improve your health. Meal planning and preparation, monitoring nutritional intake, daily weighing, monitoring vital signs, medicine reminders and monitoring compliance, range of motion and exercise, to name a few. Our caregivers maintain detailed care logs that can help spot changes that require special attention.

2 Personal Care
For clients living active lives, our homemaking services can help free-up your time so that you can focus your energies on doing the things you love. As care needs grow, we are there to assist with daily living activities that include bathing, dressing, grooming, oral care, skin care, and hair care. Our continuum of care continues for those who need assistance with toileting, transferring, and walking. Home safety and organization are always part of your care.

3 Living
Staying active is a cornerstone of successful aging. We encourage—and will gladly help—with maintaining your social connections, keeping medical appointments, and running errands. Add in some fresh air, and exercise. Spend some time playing board games, reminiscing, listening to music, or simply smelling the roses. The possibilities are really limitless.

Your Care Team
You can count on receiving warm, personalized attention with A Passion for Care—precisely because we haven’t grown too large. Our caregivers and care managers are there for you at all times, anticipating and planning for your needs. Your initial assessment is only the first step toward making each day the best that it can be. Your caregivers are matched to your satisfaction. All caregivers are our W2 employees. Each caregiver receives ongoing training, has passed background checks, TB tests, and is bonded and insured. Your care plan includes coordination with your extended care partners — be they physicians, pharmacists, family, friends, neighbors, or faith community. Together, we are your care team.
